

Healthi Healing Policies For Services

I understand that I am purchasing a health and wellness consultant or a health and wellness package plan. This program is generally very successful, but cannot be guaranteed, as the success depends on various factors including my effort and personal responsibilities of my own health. These services are not covered by insurance companies and it's your responsibility to look into flex spending accounts and their terms with holistic modalities.

I understand that Sarah Huftalen of Healthi Healing is not a licensed medical doctor and does NOT diagnose, prescribe or treat disease or recommend treatments of specific conditions please see a licensed healthcare professional. I understand that the services, protocols and support Sarah Huftalen will be using are not for treating disease but are to strengthen and support the natural, innate ability of the body to function optimally.

I understand that the services I purchased must be used within a time frame paid for as discussed with the practitioner. My consultation services are non refundable, if you purchased a package plan you can receive 50% refund within the first two weeks of purchase.

I understand all information is confidential, except as required by law.

I understand that I will be charged a late cancellation fee of 50% of the session fee if I fail to give at least 24 hours notice prior to cancelling my appointment. And I understand that I will be charged a no-show fee of the full session cost if I fail to show for my appointment.

I understand that the session will last 60 minutes and that if I am late to the appointment, I will still have to end the session at the allotted end time.

By signing this, I am agreeing to the above stated terms and stipulations regarding the services I receive from this practitioner.
